

National Online Language Teachers' Survey

Invitation to participate

A live link to this survey will be available from 8 Aug 2008 until 1 Sept 2008. As well as being the current President of NZALT, Adele Scott is also taking on PhD research which will be of benefit to the Association for years to come. The Executive of NZALT encourages you to complete this survey which will provide data for the first time ever on the nature of the languages teaching profession in New Zealand schools.

He taonga ngā reo katoa:
All languages are to be treasured.

ALL teachers currently teaching a second language (other than ESOL) at any level (Years 1-13) are invited to participate in a research project that will examine the nature of second language teaching in New Zealand schools.

The online survey will be available at:
<http://www.nzalt.org.nz> on Friday 8 August, 2008 and must be completed by Monday 1 September, 2008.

Te Kunenga
ki Pūrehuroa

Adèle Scott is a Senior Lecturer at the School of Curriculum and Pedagogy, College of Education, Massey University. The research project is being conducted as part of her requirement to complete her PhD.

The data will be gathered in two stages. First, participants will be asked to complete an online survey to provide an initial set of information about their background - qualifications, language learning experiences and teaching experience. Results from this will inform the framework for the second stage, which will involve a limited number of case study interviews.

The online survey will be available at <http://www.nzalt.org.nz> on Friday 8 August 2008.

Completion of the survey is required before Monday 1 September 2008. On completion of the survey, participants will have the option to enter a draw for languages prizes. The contact information supplied for this draw will not be used in the analysis of responses to the survey questions.
